

I have found the telephone privacy law in Indiana to be very important in protecting my rights. It has been very effective in ending abusive telephone practices without curbing any legitimate use of the telephone. I support the efforts of the Attorney General to preserve this law as currently implemented against the attack from some of the banking interests.